

Marigold & Vine — Brand Knowledge Base

Everything true about this business, written down so it can be cited.

Fictional. Prepared as a test document for SparkSocial — every name, number and address below is invented.

What we are

A women's jewellery and accessories studio in Manchester. We design demi-fine jewellery, print and hand-roll silk scarves, and make hair pieces. Everything is designed here; the jewellery is cast by a workshop in Birmingham and finished, set and quality-checked on our own bench.

Opened May 2020, by Ottoline Vine, who still designs every piece.

Staff 5 — two on the bench, one on silk, two on the shopfront and orders.

Studio 9 Marigold Walk, Ancoats. Open Thu–Sun 11am–6pm; the bench is behind glass.

The facts a post might need to cite

| Claim | The actual number | Last checked |

| --- | --- | --- |

| Pieces finished per week | 120–150 | Sept 2026 |

| Designs in the current range | 64 | Sept 2026 |

| Orders shipped, to date | 19,400 | Sept 2026 |

| Gold plating thickness | 2.5 microns over recycled sterling | ongoing |

| How long the plating lasts, worn daily | 18–24 months before it needs redipping | ongoing |

| Redipping service | £15 per piece, any age, forever | since 2021 |

| Silk | 22mm mulberry, printed in Macclesfield | since 2022 |

| Scarf hems | hand-rolled, about 40 minutes each | ongoing |

| Returns accepted within | 60 days, worn or unworn | since 2020 |

Do not round 19,400 up to "20,000+" and do not describe 2.5 microns as "thick". If a number is out of date, say the month it was true.

What we sell

- Demi-fine jewellery — £38–£145. Gold vermeil and recycled sterling.

Earrings, chains, signet and stacking rings, charm pieces.

- Silk scarves — £48–£68. 22mm mulberry silk, hand-rolled hems, six prints a year.

- Hair pieces — £24–£52. Silk-wrapped claws, covered bands, pins.

- Redipping — £15. Any piece of ours, any age, no receipt needed.

- Repairs — resizing, chain fixes, restringing. £12–£40.

How we talk

Warm and direct. We assume the reader is buying for herself, not being bought for — most of our orders are self-purchase, and writing as though every piece is a gift from someone else gets that wrong.

We are specific about materials because the category is full of vagueness. "Gold vermeil, 2.5 microns over recycled sterling" is the sentence; "luxurious gold finish" is not.

We talk about wear honestly. Plating wears. Silk creases. Saying so and offering the fix is more persuasive than pretending otherwise.

Things we do not say

- Never "solid gold" or "fine jewellery" — we are demi-fine and vermeil, and the distinction is legally meaningful.
- Never "hypoallergenic" as a blanket claim. Say "nickel-free" where that is documented.
- Never "tarnish-proof" or "waterproof". Say how long the plating lasts and that redipping is £15.
- Never "handmade in Manchester" about the jewellery — it is cast in Birmingham and finished here. "Designed and finished in Manchester" is the true sentence.
- Never "investment piece" or "will hold its value". It will not; that is not what it is for.
- Never "flattering", "slimming", or anything about the wearer's body.
- Never "treat yourself" framing, or urgency: "last chance", "almost gone", "don't miss out".
- Never imply a piece is limited when it is a repeating line. Say the batch size if it is genuinely a batch.

Proof we can show

- The bench, behind glass on the shop floor — filming it needs no staging.
- Hems being hand-rolled. It is slow and it looks it, which is the point.
- A piece before and after redipping, side by side.
- Raw stock: recycled sterling, silk on the roll, the Macclesfield print bolts.
- The returns shelf, honestly labelled, because 60-day worn returns are unusual and we would rather show it than claim it.
- Ottoline at the bench and at the drawing board — likeness cleared, in writing, for all channels.

Customer faces require written consent. Absent that, hands and the piece only. We do not repost a customer photo without asking, even a public one.